Locked Horns 1 X 41 Minutes

U.S. oil interests threaten to destroy a traditional way of life in Canada's north. For the Vuntut Gwitch'in people of Old Crow in the Yukon, much depends on the caribou migration. Now new oil drilling in Alaska could bring an end to the caribou and an end to this ancient culture. Aired on CBC Television. 1 Disc. Retail Price $10.00 USD. Available Worldwide.

Wade Davis: Explorer 1 X 41 Minutes

Wade Davis: The Explorer follows Davis from a river trip with his family on the Stikine in Alaska and Northern B.C. to the Incan ruins of the high Peruvian Andes. As the documentary unfolds, viewers discover that his work with indigenous cultures has given him a truly unique view of the world. He is able to slip off the map for awhile, to live with the voodoo priests in Haiti, the Penan in Borneo or the Quechuen of Chinchero. Davis brings those experiences to us through his writings, lectures and photographs - teaching us that there are other ways of seeing and experiencing the world. Aired on CBC Television. 1 Disc. Retail Price $10.00 USD. Available Worldwide
